

In an effort to ensure consistency across the school, as well as provide staff members with a toolbox of possible consequences, the staff could select any of the following possible consequences when a student earns a “minor” with the EWMS Code of Conduct.

Possible Staff Consequences for “Minor” Behavior:

- Conference with student
- Detentions before or after school
- Enhancing vocabulary—content specific
- Letter of apology
- Loss of classroom privileges
- Lunch Detention (in a separate room)
- Relocation of student to another classroom
- Relocation within classroom
- Student calling home with teacher present (privately)
- Written reflection assignment

Please Note: It is important to keep in mind that this is just a list of possible options for staff members to access.

As a staff, we feel that having a list of possible options for staff-assigned consequences will provide options for staff members, and achieve more consistency across the school.
